Awards Given To Athletes At Banquet

Thomas Dwight (Dike) Eddleman was the guest speaker at the Lions Club Athletic Banquet held Monday night at the high school. The Antioch Lions Club honor the school's athletes each year at this banquet.

Fathers of the athletes are invited, plus Lions Club members and coaches.

Maynard Schneider, Lions Club president, made the awards to the boys rated Most Valuable in the respective sports. Big Vic Rogers received the Most Valuable player award in basketball; John Sheppard in wrestling; Tom Wojnowski, Cross Country; Paul Lindblad, Football; and Tom Morgan, Track.

"Dike" Eddleman, famed athlete, told of his experiences in athletics from high school to pro basketball. The biggest thrill of his life, he said, was when he played in the basketball state tournament in Champaign with the Centralia team in 1942. Eddleman, among other honors, made the All-State basketball team three years, was twice named Illinois Athlete of the Year, and in 1948 qualified for the U. S. Olympic team.

Shelters To Be Well Stocked

Civil Defense Director John Dupre expected trucks from the Rock Island Arsenal to bring in supplies for Antioch's first Civil Defense shelter last Thursday, but the storm evidently delayed them.

The supplies are expected momentarily. He did receive the radio monitoring equipment. Courses in use of the equipment will start April 10 at the fire station.

J.C.'s To Be Easter Bunnies

The Lake Region Jaycees are planning a Giant Easter Egg Hunt for Antioch area children on Sunday, April 11. The Jaycees plan to hide hundreds of plastic eggs at the Antioch Grade School. The hunt will start at 2 p.m. on the Sunday before Easter. All youngsters from two to eight years old are invited to participate.

Some of the eggs will be filled with candies; some will name a prize which the youngster can collect; there will be at least one large prize, and many smaller ones.

Chairman of the affair is Ed Ring.

Mr. Dupre received a list of the supplies for the shelter which he will receive. The supplies are furnished by the Federal government, and will include: 770 pounds of carbohydrates; 40 cartons (1704 lbs.) of biscuits or crackers; 100 water storage drums (each drum holds 30 gallons. They are filled at the shelter, and checked and re-filled at intervals); 100 polyethylene bag liners for the water drums (in actual use, the emptied water drums are used for disposal of waste after being emptied); 10 sanitation kits; one A3 Medical Kit and one C1 Medical Kit; total value of the supplies is $897.11.

Found Dead In Home

Mrs. Annie E. Adams, 77 years old of 433 1/2 Orchard St. in Antioch was found dead in her home last Saturday, March 20, by Antioch police.

Patrolman Fred Elam and Sergeant Jack Heick went to the Adams home after being called by a local doctor. The doctor had tried to phone Mrs. Adams after she failed to keep an appointment at his office.

Mrs. Adams lived alone. It was estimated she had been dead about 24 hours.

Mrs. Adams was born August 22, 1887, at Volo, Ill. She had resided in Grayslake, Libertyville, Mundelein, and DesPlaines, Ill., before moving to Antioch 13 years ago. She had attended the Antioch Methodist Church. Mrs. Adams held membership in Perseverance Camp No. 6394 of the Royal Neighbors of America Lodge at DesPlaines.

She is survived by one son, Richard E. Adams of Mundelein, and two grandchildren.

Town Election On April 6

The election of township officials will be the first in the series of April elections coming up that month. Town elections will be held April 6.

Two slates are competing for the township offices. The incumbents running for re-election are Llewellyn Van Patten, clerk; G. Dudley Kennedy, assessor; Irving W. Carey, Harold W. Wilson and John P. Miller, auditors. Geraldine C. Olson and O. R. Kresse are the only candidates for library trustees.

The Lower Tax party slate has Elsie M. Turner for clerk; Robert W. Hannan, assessor; and John W. Doyle, Sophie Radakovic and Ellen P. Reekie for auditors.

lein, and two grandchildren. She was preceded in death by her husband, George, in 1915, and a sister, Gertrude. Funeral services were held at 11 a.m. Wednesday at the Strang Funeral Home in Antioch, with the Rev. Donald Cobb of the Antioch Methodist Church officiating.

Free Eggs By C.C. Next Week

Everybody entering Antioch will know the town's pride in their champion basketball team from now on, thanks to the Antioch Chamber of Commerce.

Latest addition to the landscape at the three intersections, at the edge of the village is three wooden signs, 2 feet by 4 feet, proclaiming a "Welcome to Antioch, Home of the Northwest Suburban Basketball Champions, 1944-45."

The signs were lettered and painted by Mrs. William (Judy) Nauman, Beach Grove Road, the daughter of John Romer, who was in charge of the project.

The signs now completed and in place, Chamber members are moving on to their next project—the Easter Egg promotion—to be held April 8, 9 and 10. About 30 Chamber member stores will be participating.

Varied-colored plastic eggs are displayed in a basket in the stores of merchants taking part in the Easter promotion. An adult may pick an egg from this basket (no purchase required) and if the egg contains a lucky insert he wins a prize.

H.S. Board Issues Contracts To Teachers

The Antioch Community High School authorized the issuance of 1965-66 contracts to teachers at the regular board meeting Wednesday night, March 17. The teachers have 30 days in which to sign and return the contracts.

Mrs. Jane Craner, now residing on the south shore of Lake Michigan, was employed by the board as instructor for the Art class which will be added to the school's curriculum for next year. Mrs. Craner has six years experience as an instructor in art, having taught at the Har-Brack school at Natonra, Pa., before coming to Antioch.

The board re-employed Jodele & Cain as school accountants for the 1965-66 school year.

Laurence Eggleston reported to the board on the late-bus service now being supplied to students for a trial six-weeks period. The buses provide transportation home to students staying late.

Eggleston reported that in the first four days of operation 218 students, or an average of 55 a day, used the bus service. Of these, seventy students were staying late to work with teachers on special assignments.

The Board of Education of the high school will entertain board members of elementary schools in the high school district at a dinner in the high school cafeteria at 7 p.m. on April 28. Ben A. Sylla, associate director of the Illinois Association of School Boards, will address the gathering, commenting on the responsibilities of school board members. He will then discuss some of the current issues facing school boards, such as consolidation, school finances, etc.

The High School Board adopted a calendar for the 1965-66 school year. The calendar adhered to the calendar recommended by Dr. W. C. Petty, except for two variations — Antioch High will again open on September 2, before Labor Day, and Antioch teachers will have one extra day to visit other schools. Dr. Petty's calendar provides for two institute days for teachers.

The Board approved payment of $987 membership fee in the Special Education District. The fee is set at $1 per pupil enrolled. The board also approved use of a room at the High School for a classroom for the Educable Mentally Handicapped.

President Robert Denman appointed a committee of Victor Schaeffer, Boyd Osmond and Helen Kopriva to review equipment requisitions of teachers for the next school year.

The board authorized the purchase of amplifying and speaker equipment for the athletic area, to be used at such activities as football games, track, etc. Low bid for the equipment was $343.51, submitted by Private Telecommunications of Chicago.

The board also approved continued participation in the National Education Act. Under this law, the school received about 30% reimbursement from the Federal government for all equipment purchased for mathematics, science, foreign languages and guidance.

Start Class In Radiation Monitoring

Civil Defense Director John Dupre has announced that a Radiological Monitoring course will start Monday, April 12, at 7:30 p.m. at the Antioch Fire Station.

The shelter monitoring equipment arrived last week, part of the supplies for the Civil Defense shelter set up in the basement of the Antioch High School. The equipment is used to test for radiation.

Each week's lesson will last about two hours, and the course will run for eight weeks. Anyone 18 years old or over may join the class. Women are invited to participate.

There is a charge of $1.00 per person, refunded to all who complete the course and receive a diploma.

Twenty persons are needed to start the course. If there is enough demand, an additional class will be held Saturday afternoon.

A Shelter Management course will also be started as soon as possible. This is a ten-hour course.

Registrations for both classes are being accepted now. To enroll, call either Director John Dupre at 395-0314 or Assistant Director John Dupre at 395-0314 or Assistant Director Edward Frazier, 395-0483.

G.S. Board Arranges For April Election

Details of the Antioch Grade School Board election were taken care of at the meeting of the board last Tuesday.

The board authorized the secretary to arrange details and have 1600 ballots printed. A resolution was adopted authorizing the use of numbered affidavits for voters instead of a poll list and book.

Three judges of election were appointed—Vera Horvath, Lois Larson and Ella Palinski.

The board authorized that the two snow days be added to Easter vacation. (One day was subsequently lost last Wednesday when bad roads closed the school.)

A contract to employ Miss Sandra Lee Gotsch as third grade teacher was approved. Miss Gotsch is a graduate of Eastern Illinois University.

The Special Education room for physically handicapped children at Oakland school will not be available next year. All classrooms will be occupied. Seventh and eighth grade students from annexed Channel Lake School will attend Oakland.

Contracts to nine non-tenure teachers were approved by the board. Contracts will not be offered to the two non-tenure teachers from Channel Lake School.

Employment of the other teachers at Channel Lake School was postponed pending settlement of salaries.

Ronald Polson reported that trees were available to plant at Oakland School. The tree-planting program is under the auspices of the Northern Illinois Conservation Club. The board approved the tree-planting program.

Nine Candidates For AGS Board

Nine persons have filed petitions as candidates for the three vacancies on the Antioch Grade School Board.

Latest to file in the board race are Richard Harland, Rt. 3, Channel Lake, and Phyllis Erickson, Rt. 2, Box 325, Deep Lake Road.

Petitions had previously been filed by Richard Eckert, incumbent; Ronald Polson, incumbent; Miss Mildred LaPlant, Mrs. Gloria K. Patrovsky, Dr. Fred Bobzien, William Strahan and Peter Paulos.

Last day for filing petitions for the school board was March 20. Election will be held Saturday, April 10.

Realtors To Hear About Road Programs

M. E. Amstutz, superintendent of the Lake County Highway Department, will be the featured speaker at the meeting of the Waukegan-Lake County Board of Realtors on Monday, March 29. Amstutz will address the group on "State and County Road Programs."

The dinner meeting will be held at the Renwood Country Club, starting at 7 p.m.

Secretary Suspends Drivers License

The driver's license of Bert W. Weiner, 180 Lakewood Drive, Antioch, has been suspended following to an announcement from the office of Secretary of State Paul Powell.

The secretary's office announces that a probationary permit has been issued to Keith A. Kube, Rt. 1, Box 435, Antioch.

Last Chance To See PM&L Play

The last two performances of the comedy, "Send Me No Flowers," will be presented Friday and Saturday, March 26 and 27, at 8:30 p.m. in the PM&L Theatre on Main St. in Antioch. Tickets may be obtained by calling Mrs. Vivian Maplethorpe or at the theatre office.

IN THE SEATS THEY HOPE TO OCCUPY after April 20. Einar Petersen and Robert Wilton are candidates for village trustee, Clarence Shultis, (right) seeks re-election as clerk. The third trustee candidate on the People's Party slate, George Palaske, was not present.

Cunningham Heads People's Party Slate

PEOPLES PARTY CANDIDATES

Murrill W. Cunningham, incumbent, is running for re-election as Mayor of Antioch on the People's Party ticket.

Mayor Cunningham, 50 years old, has served two terms—eight years—as Mayor of Antioch. Before that, he was a village trustee for ten years.

Cunningham owns and operates Cunningham Cartage of Antioch. He is a member of the Lions Club, and was a member of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce for many years. He served 25 years in the Antioch Fire Department, but is not now active in that organization.

His plans for the future of Antioch, says the Mayor, if he's re-elected, include "a filtration plant, a cut in the water and sewer rate, better streets, and a start on a sidewalk program. I intend to work closely with the Chamber of Commerce," stated the Mayor.

"To try to bring more industry to Antioch and to make Antioch a better place to live and work. We will also be working for improvement of the parking for the business section of Antioch."

The People's Party slate includes three candidates for the three positions on the village board. Robert Wilton, Jr., incumbent Einar Petersen and George Palaske are on Mayor Cunningham's slate.

Robert Wilton, 478 First St., 31 years old, is making his first bid for a public elective office. He's a lifetime resident of Antioch, a graduate of Antioch High School and Bradley University.

He works with his father in the Wilton Electric Shop on Main St., in Antioch. He and his wife, Vicki, have one daughter, Patty.

Robert is a member of the Antioch Rescue Squad, the Antioch Lions Club and the Antioch Chamber of Commerce.

"Antioch is a fast growing community," Wilton said, "I feel business men should take an active part in community life. That's why I'm running for the village board."

"I'd like to see more industry, better parking and shopping facilities in Antioch," Wilton said. "And I agree with the Mayor's aim of a sidewalk program."

George Palaske, 41, lives at 900 Hillside in Antioch with his wife, Alice, and four children. Georgine Marie, 12, Douglas, 10, Mary Beth, 8, and David, 2.

Palaske has lived in Antioch since he was nine years old, attending Antioch Grade school and high school. He's an officer of the Holy Name Society of St. Peter's Church and a member of the Waukegan Elks.

Mr. Palaske has held no elective political office, but was a member of the Zoning and Planning board appointed to work with the village board on the zoning plan which was presented to Antioch residents some time ago, but never formally adopted.

Palaske is in the house raising and moving business. He's running on the People's Party slate, he says, because he likes the Mayor's program and would like to see it continue. He thinks the overall business picture on Main St. is good, he says, and feels that the Mayor has done as well as anyone could, could.

Einar Petersen, 61, incumbent running for re-election as village trustee, lives at 40 Henning Drive with his wife, Leona. They have five daughters, one son, and fourteen grandchildren.

Einar manages the Lakes News Service, a newspaper delivery service. He has lived in Antioch all of his life.

Einar was first elected to the village board two years ago for a two-year term.

He was a charter member of the Antioch Rescue Squad. Although now inactive on the squad, he is still a member.

He served 25 years with the Antioch Fire Department before retiring from active duty in that organization.

"I support the Mayor's platform for Antioch," Petersen said. "I think it's a good program."

Clarence Shultis, candidate for clerk on the People's Party slate, is 68 years old and lives at 1040 Bishop St. with his wife, Dorothy.

Mr. Shultis has served the village of Antioch as village clerk since April 17, 1951. At that time he was appointed deputy clerk by then-Mayor Jim McMillen. L. D. Powles, village clerk, had been called into military service.

Shultis was elected to the office in his own right at the next village election in 1953, and has served in the office continually since.

Shultis had previously served one term as treasurer from 1935-37. At that time, the treasurer could not succeed himself.

Clarence Shultis has lived in Antioch since 1919. He was a member of the Antioch Fire Dept. for 37 years, retiring in 1957. At that time he was deputy fire chief.

He served 21 years as secretary of the Lake County Fire Association. He was a charter member of the Antioch Rescue Squad. He resigned from the Rescue Squad during World War II, feeling that it was impossible to serve on both the squad and the fire department in the event of a disaster. He is a member of the American Legion.

Shultis cites his long experience at the job as the best recommendation for his re-election as village clerk.

EDITORIAL

A Lively Race

The millenium seems to have arrived—the political awareness of the average man, at least in the Antioch area, seems to be awakening.

Witness the number of candidates running for election this spring. Every post, in all the elections, is contested.

Not too long ago, it seems to us, there were times when it was hard to find even one candidate for some of these offices. School board elections roused less interest than a sale on electric blankets in July.

This spring, we're happy to report, seats on the school board are being sought as eagerly as they were avoided for a while. Antioch Grade School leads the list, with nine candidates running for three vacancies. Though the other schools don't have quite this lively a contest, there's none that don't have enough candidates to make a contest.

It's not just school board seats that the being sought either. Two slates are seeking election to the township offices. Three slates and an extra candidate for Mayor are running for posts in the village.

We don't know why the surge of interest in local politics, (if you can call school boards politics), but we hope it persists. Maybe it's because people are feeling the pinch of taxes. We hope it's not merely a desire to keep taxes down at any cost.

Whatever the reason, it's a good thing. The more candidates, the more interest and the more voters. The Antioch Grade School will have a pretty good turnout for the election if only the relatives and friends of the candidates vote.

Obviously, we're going to have quite a few defeated candidates. If they're really interested in the welfare of the community, we hope the defeated candidates try again next election.

The more interest there is in all these posts, the more information there is, the better will be our community. We applaud every man or woman willing to take the time and trouble to become a candidate, whether he be victorious or defeated.

Your Congressman Reports....

By Cong. Robert McClory

Again this year, as during the early part of the 88th Congress in 1963, I am mailing a questionnaire to residents of the 12th Congressional District (Lake, McHenry and Boone counties).

This questionnaire touches upon a number of domestic and foreign issues with which the Congress will be concerned during the weeks and months ahead, including (a) revision of our immigration laws, (b) possible repeal of Section 14 (b) of the Taft-Hartley labor law, (c) farm policy, (d) medicare legislation for older citizens, (e) trade with the Soviet Union, and other subjects. Space is provided for comments with regard to these or any other subjects on which the citizen may wish to express an opinion.

While the previous questionnaire was individually addressed to householders listed in the local telephone directories, this year the simple designation "Postal Patron" is being employed. In this way, the questionnaire will have a wider and more comprehensive distribution. In addition, the various post offices will not have the time-consuming job of searching out addresses according to street and box numbers with the inevitable incorrect addresses and changes of address which occur in any such large-scale mailing.

A questionnaire thoughtfully answered provides an opportunity for the individual citizen to communicate briefly, but directly, with his or her Representative in the Congress. The fact that more than 250 Members of the Congress engage in some such polling of constituents indicates an overwhelming public approval of this practice as a means of obtaining citizen opinion.

It should not be considered that the responses to the questionnaire are intended

BY LOU DURKIN

Handsome movie star Ronald Reagan was never in any danger of winning an award for his acting ability while a favorite leading man of the cinema, but he does appear in imminent danger of winning a political office, either in his native Illinois or his adopted state of California.

An articulate spokesman for Conservatism who invaded the political consciousness of millions of Americans in his highly effective television talks in behalf of Barry Goldwater last fall, Reagan drew one of the biggest political crowds in recent Lake County history last Friday night despite a brutally cold night when he addressed the Tri-County Republican Club at Deerfield High School.

Reagan, whose California style was tossed into the Illinois Senatorial ring a few weeks ago by an admirer, disclaimed any intention of seeking office in his native state, but there were many in his audience, and they were not all distaff voters, who were hoping he didn't mean "absolutely."

In his talk at Deerfield High School and Saturday night on KUP's Show Reagan said little that hasn't been said over and over by other Conservative spokesmen, but he said it with considerable charm and persuasion.

The one-time sportscaster and former head of the Screen Actors Guild, which he freely admitted was a labor union, proved himself fast on his feet in sometimes hurling discussion on the popular late night television show.

Regardless of which area Reagan decides would offer him the better shot at political office or if he decides his best role would be in a supporting bit for another candidate, it's a fairly sure bet that his photogenic face will be seen on scores of television programs and on hundreds of platforms in the next few months.

Invariably when any group of office-holders give themselves a pay raise the columnists and editorial writers have a field day raking them over the coals and the recent increase for committee meetings and board meetings which the county board voted for themselves has been no exception.

For some reason it seems to be all right for appointive officials to ask for and receive a pay increase, but there is something immoral apparently for elected officials to ask for more money.

Tyre columnist Joe Kirby, writing in another publication recently, criticized Board Chairman Kenneth Henke for speaking out in favor of the county board increase.

The increase was the first in more than a quarter of a century, a period which has seen the county board increase its work by establishing zoning ordinances, building ordinances, a health department, planning commission, suffer through the birth pangs of the blue ballot judicial amendment, and conduct the affairs of a county that has very nearly doubled in size and problems.

There is no question but what the work of the board has increased and it is no secret either that the cost of campaigning for office has gone up.

The cost of holding an elective office is no small matter, either, because public officials are notorious targets for the sale of raffle tickets, church dinner tickets, stickers for Little League Baseball, and nother worthy, if never ending pitches.

THINGS THAT MAKE ME FEEL OLD. In last Thursday's near-zero weather, with the wind blowing at about 40 miles an hour, I passed a young man strolling down Lake Ave. (I was inside a nice warm car.) The young man was hatless, his face beet-red in the frigid wind. And he was drinking a bottle of Coke as he walked.

And some people say the younger generation are soft! The recent editorial in the Antioch News about the law pending in the State Legislature which would make all court proceedings involving juveniles secret brought a response from a reader.

She called our attention to an article in a Reader's Digest about a Montana judge, Judge Lester H. Loble, who fought for years to remove such restrictions from juvenile courts in that state.

lounge in the new Waukegan library.

This is, of course, laudatory, but he failed to mention that she receives a salary of $14,000 a year, more than any elected county or city official with the exception of the Circuit Judges and Associate Judges, and she has no campaign expenses every four years.

It doesn't seem out of line to me for a county board member to receive $20 a day for a county board meeting or $15 a day for a committee meeting.

At least the electorate can fire a board member who doesn't earn the money he receives, but getting rid of a career appointive officer is usually much more difficult.

Former Governor William G. Stratton, who has disappeared into political limbo before his recent income tax trial, is expected to be on hand for the annual Installation Dinner of the Antioch Township Republican Club at Lorenz' Country House Saturday night.

He will probably get a warmer and friendlier reception than he received when he campaigned in the area in 1960.

Sheriffs and other police officials in the two counties where Judge Loble presides are happy with his methods. They report a substantial decrease in juvenile delinquency under the judge's methods, and a better attitude toward the law among the young people.

And guess who were among the judge's most ardent supporters when he was trying to get laws passed in his state removing the veil of secrecy from juvenile court proceedings? Responsible minors, who helped to circulate petitions favoring the change.

Kids who were sick of having all teenagers carry the stigma of the lawless ones who were allowed to hide behind the veil of secrecy imposed by the law were among the most anxious to have the real offenders known.

Channel 11 To Spotlight Political Campaign Activity

The combination of tough conservatism and zealous amateurism which has characterized the Republican Party within the past two years will be documented in "Republicans: The New Breed," to be telecast on WTTW, Channel 11, at 8:30 p.m. Monday, March 29.

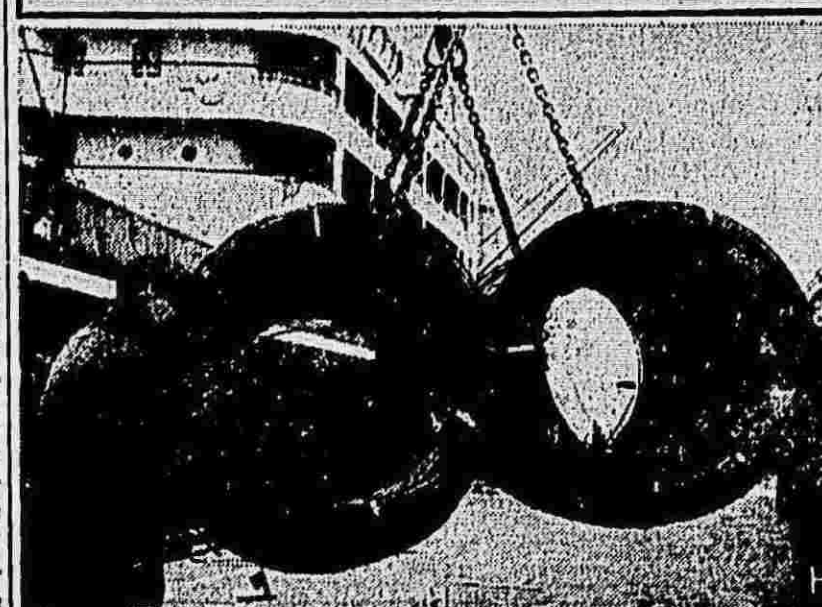

The half-hour program goes behind the scenes of Barry Goldwater's campaign to profile young Alabama attorney Grenier, executive director of the Republican National Committee and Goldwater's number one southern agent. Grenier is shown as he maps strategy to corral southern votes, raises financial support, and deals with delegations in hotel room meetings. His reactions to press coverage which Goldwater received during several stages of the campaign are also documented.

FOREIGN STEEL INVADES U.S.A.

FOREIGN STEEL entered the United States at the rate of 16,626 tons per day during the first six months of 1964—a good sized shipload every 2 hours, according to American Iron and Steel Institute. The more than 3 million net tons of imports represented a record for a first-half year, exceeding by 28 percent the former high of 2.4 million tons set during the like period of 1963. Exports of steel mill products during the first half of 1964, at 1,447,000 net tons, compared with 996,000 tons during the January-through-June period of 1963. In spite of that improvement in exports, the United States remained a net importer of steel, a position that the nation has occupied in every half year since 1960. The photo shows Japanese steel being unloaded at the dock in New York harbor.

McClory To Address GOP

Rep. Robert McClory will be the guest speaker at Herbert Horton night of the Antioch Township Republican Club on March 27.

Rep. McClory will discuss the work of the U. S. Congress. In addition to McClory, several of the county's supervisors are expected to be present, plus most of the Republican political figures in the area who are not otherwise engaged.

The dinner party will be held at Lorenz's Smart Country House. Installation of officers will also be held.

Loren Sexauer, ticket chairman, announces that there are still some tickets available for the affair, which begins at 7 p.m.

We dislike people who are counting on a ticket to heaven because they 'don't do things.

Spring Comes To McCormick Place

Spring may be a bit tardy, but it arrived Saturday, March 20, as the 1965 Chicago World Flower and Garden Show officially opened its doors at 11 a.m. to 35,000 persons eager to shed winter blues. The Show fills McCormick Place with springtime beauty with plants and flowers from around the world. Daily hours are 11 a.m. - 10 p.m. through Sunday, March 28.

A show spectacular is a giant ferris wheel of roses reaching through the rafters of the building. Designed by Roses, Inc., the wheel is adorned with more than 5,000 blossoms of dozens of varieties.

In this year's show, many unusual products of nature vie for attention with the more than 50,000 plants, trees and shrubs on display. In one feature, 300 aquariums are being presented with displays of rare fish from all corners of the globe by hobbyists throughout Chicago. There are rare tropical and colorful birds flashing their wings to attract attention from the flowers. Unusual is a display of lapidary art featuring flowers and fruits hand carved from precious gems. Presented by the Lizzadro Museum of Lapidary Art, other attention getters are a replica of the ceremonial elephant of Ceylon bedecked with gems and a jade incensor which took an estimated 100 years to create.

The romance of the south seas abounds in the Chicago Park District's "Polynesian Enchantment." Here tall palms shelter a mountain pool and colorful tropical blooms of orchids and flowers native to the south seas.

In the center of the show, mountain scenery recreates the days of the 40's. In this garden alone, more than 1,000 azalea and rhododendrons are blooming.

Creation of this Flower Show required the production of more than 170,000 plants, trees and shrubs—all in full bloom or foliage. These plants were nursed throughout the winter in greenhouses to assure their look of perfection for the Show.

The Chicago World Flower and Garden Show is the nation's largest indoor flower show and each presentation requires a full year's preparation by thousands of leading landscape architects, designers, nurserymen and florists.

Attendance totaled a record high 411,901 when the exposition ended its nine-day run March 14. Show-goers attended individually and in groups from throughout the Midwest. An Indianapolis boating group came to the show in two chartered buses. A Lima, Ohio, group came by special railway car. Boating and sportsmen's clubs came by automobile caravan.

"As a result of the size, buying-mindedness and market coverage of our audience," Hughes said, "virtually every exhibitor has requested space for next year and most of them are asking for more space than they had this year."

Since the show occupied all of the 310,000 sq. ft. main exhibit hall this year, Hughes noted, "It would appear that we will be taking advantage of the commodious facilities McCormick Place offers in its lower exhibition hall and be double decked in 1966."

The 1966 edition of the show will be held March 5-13. Requests for increased space have come from all four segments of outdoor recreational interests represented in the show—marine, travel, camping and fishing, Hughes said.

Travel exhibitors found that vacation planners sometimes thronged their booths beyond capacity, and are asking for additional space to accommodate more booth personnel. This year's travel section had 132 exhibitors, representing 24 states and all 12 Canadian provinces.

Camping equipment exhibitors reported an upsurge of interest in their products over last year and seek more space so that their next year's displays can be representative of their entire lines. This year's camping section was characterized by the presence of "big name" manufacturers and included tents, "pop-up" folding tent campers, coaches for installation on pick-up trucks and even the family automobile, travel trailers and self-contained motorized "land-yachts."

A similar 1966 objective of complete-line displays was expressed by tackle manufacturers. "Tackle Town" this year was representative of virtually every manufacturer who distributes nationally.

The exposition is owned and sponsored by the boating industry's national trade group, the Chicago-based Boating Industry Association, with other trade associations cooperating. It is produced by Guy W. Hughes and Associates, Inc.

Fair Credit Comm. Recommends Laws
The Committee for Fair Practices has recommended passage of legislation to permit return of goods and services purchased on installment credit contracts within five days after the contract is signed.

John Kearney, chairman of the group's steering committee, said such legislation "could save thousands of individuals and families from making tragic errors in the purchase of goods and services from unscrupulous dealers or through misjudgment of their own economic resources."

The Fair Credit Practices Committee also adopted three other recommendations for future legislation in the area of credit laws:

1. That a creditor should be permitted to attach no more than 5% of the worker's gross wages in satisfaction of a debt.

2. Abolition of deficiency judgments against those who have purchased goods or services after repossession has taken place.

3. An increase of the personal property exemption from deficiency judgments to $1,500 for a head of household and $800 for all others.

The latter recommendation means that the person in debt would be permitted to retain $800 or $1,500 in personal property free from any deficiency judgment.

Legislation calling for abolition of deficiency judgment when repossession of goods or services has taken place has already been introduced at this session of the Illinois General Assembly.

The other three recommendations are expected to be included in legislation to be introduced shortly.

The Committee for Fair Credit Practices is composed of representatives from a wide variety of Chicago area business firms and welfare agencies.

Announce More Babies Available For Adoption

Last year the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society placed 38 more children in permanent adoption homes than it did the previous year. This year the Society hopes to continue to serve even more infants needing adoption.

This statement was made by Miss Lois Wildy, executive director of the agency. The Society, a privately supported child welfare agency, placed 183 children with permanent parents in 1964.

"The number of babies available for adoption has increased in recent years while the number of couples coming to us has declined," Miss Wildy said. "While we continue to have more applicants than babies, there are fewer couples asking for each child. To help more babies needing adoption care, we must encourage couples thinking about adoption to contact us."

The Society, the largest non-sectarian child care agency in the state, has simplified the adoption process and has eliminated red tape without sacrificing good service to the children and couples applying. The Society has no waiting lists and no rigid requirements.

"We hope to place youngsters with people who are healthy, happily married, who love children and want a child. They must be people who can love an adopted child as their own. We do not expect them to be perfect," Miss Wildy said.

"In general adopting couples should be of an age appropriate for the parents of an infant and should have been married long enough to be adjusted to each other. You don't have to be rich or own your own home to adopt, but your income must be sufficient for the child's care. We often place children with people who already have children—either natural or adopted children—and want more."

Although there is not a baby for every couple who talks with the Society about adoption, all are urged to call because there are more children needing adoption than there were in former years. If it is not likely that the Society will have a baby for a couple, they will not be kept waiting but will be told within a reasonable length of time so that they can apply at another agency.

For more information, interested couples are urged to telephone the Society's adoption intake caseworker at Whitehall 4-3313, or write the Adoption Division, 1122 North Dearborn Street, Chicago. The Society is privately supported by contributions. It is certified by the state of Illinois Department of Child and Family Services and is endorsed by the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry.

Spirits Roam Through Fine Arts Play

Do you believe in spirits? Whether you do or whether you don't, the next Fine Arts Department production will cause you to have some new thoughts on the subject. The young dramatists at Antioch High School are well through their preparations to present "The Enchanted," a fantasy by Jean Giraudoux, the noted French playwright. The play will run for two evenings beginning Friday, April 2, curtain time 8 p.m. The story of the play is the biography of a critical moment in the life of a young girl (played by Joan Tanner)—the moment when she turns from girlhood to womanhood.

In this moment, Isabel's belief in the life of the spirit is so strong that it is sufficient to evoke a real phantom, and even to threaten this world with a spiritual revolution. But where the Inspector (Al Murphy), who represents the powers of Government and Science, is powerless against Isabel, the Eligible Young Man (Mike McConahay) succeeds, and for Isabel, as for all young girls, the adventure of love proves more attractive in the end than the adventure of death.

Others in the large cast are: Tom Mayerle as the Doctor, Dave Chandler as the Mayor, Betty Frank as Daisy, Karen Boesenberg as Viola, Colleen Gross as Lucy, Wendy Eberman as Irene, Candy Bentel as Gilberte, Linda Brown as Denise, Denise Praetner as Marie-Louise, Juanita Gillum as Leonide, Janet Feiler as Armande, Don Carden as the Ghost, David Serres and Gary Strahan as the Executioners, Tom Aerne as Papa Tellier, and Marty McConahay as M. Adriane.

This delightful French fantasy is under the direction of Ken Smouse, assisted by Don Beveroth and Mary Baehler.

HOW TO GET MORE FUN OUT OF HOME MOVIES

by Skip Miller

THREE POINTS OF VIEW

The story goes that Hollywood director C. B. DeMille used three camera crews when shooting spectaculars. After one complicated scene, involving an explosion, a toppling bridge, a fire, a hurricane and thousands of extras, Mr. DeMille anxiously contacted Crew 1 and was informed they had encountered shutter trouble. Somewhat perturbed, he called Crew 2 and was informed that the camera's remote control apparatus had failed to function. Desperately, he phoned Crew 3.

The cheery reply over the wire was: "We're ready to begin any time you are, C.B."

Fortunately, those of us making personal movies are not compelled to use three separate camera crews. We should, however, use at least three different camera viewpoints.

Suppose, instead of using a single viewpoint when photographing a little girl riding a tricycle, we were to take one scene from the adult's eye-view angle, one from the little girl's eye-view position, and one from the mother's vantage point as she leaned out an upstairs window to watch her little darling pedal up and down the sidewalk.

Using the Hollywood formula for this, we would first take an over-all scene showing the house and the mother leaning out of the window. Next, we would move in for what is called a medium scene of the little girl tricycling up the sidewalk.

Now comes the impact shot: we shoot over the girl's shoulder, close up, as she pedals. The lawn and flower beds literally fly by us. To give the viewing audience the feeling of being part of the action, do in any other manner.

an ultra-close-up of the girl's feet pedaling round and round. Finally, we flash back to the mother looking out the upstairs window, then a final shot of the little girl pedaling out of sight down the block.

Here are some points to remember:

High Shooting Angle: lessens the dimension of the target. Shooting down from the second-story window of the home at a little girl tricycling up and down the sidewalk, the little girl appears smaller than she actually is.

Low Shooting Angle: magnifies the dimension of the target. Shooting up, from grass level, enables the little girl to dominate the scene, overpower the audience, and assume a new-found sense of importance.

Medium Shooting Angle: enables an eye-to-eye perspective viewpoint which, in the case of the little girl, causes her to appear as she would normally appear in the eyes (viewpoint) of another little girl.

Front Shooting Angle: minimizes action, slows down apparent speed, compresses time and movement. It takes a long time for the little girl to reach the camera position if we shoot her coming up the sidewalk toward the camera, from the opposite end of the block.

Side Shooting Angle: creates the illusion of tremendous speed, violent action, forceful velocity. A 90° angle at the little girl on her tricycle catches her only for a fleeting instant. She literally flies by in front of the camera, creating the illusion of tremendous speed.

Panning: is a great idea if well done, but should be used very seldom. For entirely too many amateurs, panning means swinging a movie camera from side to side in garden hose fashion. This is sudden death to the aspirations of the movie maker. Panning must, up, as she pedals. The lawn and flower beds literally fly by us. To give the viewing audience the feeling of being part of the action, do in any other manner.

Christian Science Sermon Sunday

The conversion and baptism of Saul of Tarsus, as told in the Acts of the Apostles, plays an important part in the Bible Lesson on "Reality" which will be heard at Christian Science churches Sunday.

Also included will be these lines from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (pp. 324-5): "When the truth first appeared to him in Science, Paul was made blind, and his blindness was felt; but spiritual light soon enabled him to follow the example and teachings of Jesus, healing the sick and preaching Christianity throughout Asia Minor, Greece, and even in Imperial Rome. . . . He who has the true idea of good loses all sense of evil, and by reason of this is ushered into the undying realities of Spirit."

If we do less than our best for two months, we'll find ourselves doing work we're ashamed of at the end of three months.

Salvation Army Doughnut Day On June 11

"Doughnut Day," The Salvation Army's 27th annual area-wide tag day, will be held on Friday, June 11, in Chicago and suburbs. Commissioner Samuel Hopburn, Central Territorial commander, announced this week.

Tag day proceeds help support the programs and services of 38 Salvation Army institutions, departments and corps in the Chicago area, and provide a part of the emergency funds used by Salvation Army Service Units in many suburban communities.

"Doughnut Day" is one of five tag days approved by the City Council of Chicago. All of the suburban communities where "Doughnut Day" will be held also have given official approval.

"Doughnut Day" will be the concluding appeal in The Salvation Army's 1965 Operating Fund Campaign to be held from May 14 to June 11. The total campaign goal is $330,000 with $170,000 of that amount to be raised on "Doughnut Day."

Mrs. Henry D. Paschen, 345 Fullerton Pkwy., general chairman of the area-wide drive for the 27th consecutive year, will direct some 10,000 volunteers who will sell the little brown doughnut-shaped paper tags.

Headquarters for the drive are in Room 912 at 18 S. Michigan ave., Chicago, telephone Financial 6-1080. Tagging locations for the drive are being assigned, and Mrs. Paschen appealed to volunteers to call Doughnut Day Headquarters soon to sign up for convenient locations and hours. "Taggers who can give as little as two hours on Doughnut Day will have an important share in The Salvation Army's program of helping the needy," said Mrs. Paschen.

Urges End To Racial Hatred

Bishop Thomas M. Pryor has sent the following message to all Methodist pastors of the Chicago Area: To the Methodist Churches of The Rock River Conference:

"As Christians we are deeply grieved, shocked, and concerned by the recent tragic events in Selma, Alabama. We have witnessed the extremes to which hatred will go. But we have also witnessed the extent to which Christian love will go in expressing human concern.

"We are all involved in this struggle for human rights and have been employing the method of the Master in their non-violence. Then special prayers first, for the family of the martyred minister; the Rev. Mr. Reeb; then for those who have been blinded by racial hatred which has led to violence and bloodshed. Let us pray for those who have been patiently struggling for human rights and have been employing the method of the Master in their non-violence. Then let us pray that God's spirit may prevail in this hour of grave crisis.

THE ANTIOCH NEWS, 6 THURSDAY, MARCH 25, 1965

"For those who desire to do so, I would suggest that an offering be sent to the Racial Witness Fund which has been authorized by the Methodist Church to help in this matter."

Millburn Hornets 4-H Club Meets

"Share the Fun" committee announced they had decided on an act to be presented at the Farm Bureau Auditorium in April. 4-H Camp will be held from June 21 to 25 at Camp near Kankakee, Ill.

The Boy Scouts of Troop 92 of Antioch have been making nests for wood ducks, under the auspices of the Northern Illinois Conservation Club, and last week the Scouts and members of the Club placed the nests in trees at the Club's grounds at Channel Lake.

The NICC furnished material and directions to the Scouts for the project. The nests are made from lengths of 12" galvanized pipe, and have been found the most efficient of several tried in protecting the eggs and baby ducks from predators.

Wood duck eggs and ducklings are prey to squirrels, raccoons, opossums, bull snakes and starlings. The ducks usually nest in hollow trees. The tendency to remove hollow trees now means that the natural nests are getting scarce.

The stovepipe nests are recommended by the Illinois Natural History Survey. The young ducks leave the nest within 24 hours, so a "ladder" inside the slippery-sided nest must be provided so they can climb to the exit. Fine wire is slanted down from the entrance hole to the bottom. The little ducks can climb out on this.

Fifteen of the nests were put out by the Scouts and NICC at the club grounds and adjoining Oak Point State Park.

1. Diet
2. Delinquency
3. Disease (ailments)

Most of them were established between 1870 and 1890, and most of them consist of lands which were then considered of relatively little value to white men. Maybe this oil and uranium bit is, in fate, a sort of delayed payment for the vast lands and hunting grounds our ancestors acquired by force."

Cold Spells Al To Ira Bring Fuel Records

When spring arrived at 2:05 p.m. on Saturday, March 20, it was heartily welcomed by millions in this area who had just survived one of Old Man Winter's most sustained assaults.

The long siege started, according to Northern Illinois Gas Company weather records, back on November 20 when Cold Spell Alfred barged in from Canada. Alfred, who was here for three days before departing in an easterly direction, brought frigid temperatures that dipped to six degrees above zero.

Before the month was out, Cold Spell Bruce arrived; and in December, January and February, Cold Spells Charlie, David, Edward, Frank, George, Harvey and Ira made their icy impacts.

George, who arrived on January 26 and who hung around until February 4, delivered the most devastating wallop. George was responsible for eight sub-zero or near-zero days in a row if anyone cares to remember.

The whole thing, NI-Gas weather experts say, added up to a winter that was colder than last and four percent colder than normal.

In keeping homes warm this winter, Northern Illinois Gas Company broke all its previous sendout records. Total sendout for the four month period from November 20 to March 20 was 120 billion cubic feet. During the same period last year, 100 billion cubic feet were sent out.

The record-breaking one-day sendout of more than 1.5 billion cubic feet was made during Cold Spell George on February 2. It was the first time in the company's history that the 1.5 billion mark was reached. On that day, NI-Gas delivered natural gas to its more than 850,000 customers at the rate of one million cubic feet each minute.

Top Drivers To Compete Again At Q. Lakes Dragway

Many of the nation's top drivers will again be racing this year at the Great Lakes Dragway, Union Grove, Wis. The list is headed by Art Arfons of Akron, Ohio. Arfons made racing history last October, when he drove his famous jet powered dragster, "Green Monster" to a world land speed record of 536.71 m.p.h. over the Bonneville, Utah, salt flats. Arfons will drive an all new jet dragster sometime in July at the Union Grove track.

Craig Breedlove, the Los Angeles, Calif. driver who formerly held the land speed record of 526.26 m.p.h., will drive a nitro fuel dragster sometime this summer. Negotiations are being made for Breedlove and Arfons to compete in a 2 out of 3 match race at the Great Lakes Dragstrip.

The other half of the famous Arfons Brothers, Walter, also from Akron will be there with his jet dragster, "Green Monster No. 15," on June 12 and 13th. Doug Rose, formerly of Milwaukee will do the driving. He will race against the powerful jet dragster, "Bonneville Avenger," driven by Bob Taylro of Grand Rapids, Mich. The 9th annual national fuel and gas championship will again be held over the Memorial Day weekend. Top cars and

The Great Lakes Dragway is located 20 miles south of Milwaukee on Highway 45 at Union Grove, Wis.

"Electric heat is so clean

"You can even take the pictures off the wall and you won't find dust or dirt marks," says Mrs. Guenther. "Why in five or six years you could go out and buy some new living room furniture for what you save in dry-cleaning and decorating bills." □ Mr. Guenther agrees just as wholeheartedly about the "dollars and sense" of electric heat: "During 1964, our electric heat cost us about $195 for our seven-room house ... and when we compared all our electric bills, we found our electric heat cost had been cut almost in half since 1958." □ What's more, like the Guenthers, you'll find electric heat has a lot of other big advantages. It's 100% efficient, no heat is lost up the chimney. Each room has its own individual thermostat. You can have the heat 80° in the bathroom, 72° in the living room, 65° in the bedroom, all at the same time. Get all the facts on electric heat. Bill Would Slag Tax Assessments

A bill dividing Lake County into four districts for purposes of the quadrennial assessment was ready to go to the House for action last week.

The bill would apply to 13 Illinois counties, and would provide for staggering the quadrennial assessment, each district being assessed in different years. It is hoped that the system will provide the Board of Review with a better chance to hear protests, and lighten the work of assessors.

Rep. John J. Conolly, Gurnee, is chief sponsor of the bill, which is backed by the Lake County Board of Supervisors. It is also supported by Maurice W. Scott, executive director of the Taxpayers Federation of Illinois.

Cook County has been operating under this plan since 1950 and it is reportedly working out well.

Council, to be told, thank you for a job well done with our children in scouting.

Nine area couples, including this reporter and husband, Joe, drove to the Old Orchard Country Club, Prospect Heights, Ill., Sunday, March 21, to enjoy dinner and a play. The group, comprised of Elmer and Doris Melordirk, Jim and Julie Portalski, Bob and Lorraine Lemke, Barbara and Donald Bjork, Dick and Pat Harland, Elmer and Lucille Eberman, Dorothy and Ray Enzenbacher, Merle and Brigit Gibson, who were celebrating their 14th wedding anniversary, & Bob and Darlene Flood of Skokie. They all enjoyed a delicious dinner and the play "The Seven Year Itch", performed by the Club's repertoire theatre group. The only comment made by the group was how soon could they do this again.

Mrs. Margaret Weiss spent Sunday in Mt. Prospect with her son, Harry, and his family to celebrate her granddaughter Pamela's 12th birthday.

Heart Defects Discussed

Several hundred doctors from throughout the world—including many from Cook, Lake and DuPage counties—will converge on Chicago today, March 25 for a three-day meeting to exchange information about the heart and circulation of the newborn and infant.

The international symposium, to be held in the Palmer House, is sponsored by the Chicago Heart Association with the cooperation of the American Heart Association.

This session will mark the first time this material has been presented in a coordinated form and much of it is unpublished.

Dr. Donald E. Cassels, Chicago, symposium chairman, said "The importance of this area of study is indicated by the fact that 50 per cent of the mortality from inborn heart disease occurs in the first six months of life."

In the United States alone somewhere between 30,000 and 40,000 babies are born each year with heart defects.

The symposium will involve arming six basic fields, one being studied each morning and afternoon of the three days. Altogether 36 papers on inborn heart defects will be read and discussed.

Much of the symposium expenses are underwritten by funds contributed to the Heart Fund.

COLOR TV with Space Age Sealed Circuitry

RCA Space Age Sealed Circuitry (two-thirds of chassis circuitry is bonded on etched copper, eliminating more than 200 hand-soldered, hand-wired connections) has been proven reliable in millions of RCA Victor TV sets... requires less maintenance and gives unsurpassed performance. RCA Victor Color TV has many other plus advantages, too: Power-boosted 25,000-volt (factory adjusted) chassis; powerful New Vista Tuners; glare-proof High Fidelity Color Tube; all-channel VHF and UHF tuning; tasteful cabinet styling. The James, pictured above, offers all these features plus many more.

REQUIRED MAINTENANCE: The following maintenance services are required under the warranty: change engine oil every 3 months or 3,000 miles, whichever comes first; replace oil filter every second oil change; clean carburetor air filter every 6 months and replace it every 2 years; and every 6 months, furnish evidence of this required service to a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer and request him to certify receipt of such evidence and your car's mileage. MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my beloved husband, Ted Palaske, who passed away 4 years ago on March 26. 'Tis but four years ago today.

Since God called you away,
And I who loved you
Miss you more each day.
Oh happy hours we once enjoyed,
How sweet their memories
still.
But death has left a loneliness,
The world can never fill.
Loving wife,
(39) Evelyn Palaske

IN MEMORIAM

In remembrance of Clarence E. Cunningham who passed away March 25th, 1959.
It's just six years ago today
Since God called you away,
Although it seems much longer
To us here today.
God saw the footsteps falter
And the pathway growing steep
Then he touched the weary eyelids
And gave his loved one sleep.
When through our tears and sorrows
We saw a curtain fall
And knew another loved one
Had gone beyond our call,
We must have faith and courage
In God and His way
For he will drop the curtain
On all of us some day.
Sadly missed by his wife,
Laura, and children.

SOME ACCIDENTS EASILY AVOIDED

Accidents that are easiest to avoid often occur most frequently. A leading reason says the Institute for Safer Living, is general simplicity of the accident-producing condition, leading to such human factors as over confidence, inattention and lack of alertness. Tailgating is cited as an example, which now accounts for about 25 per cent of all highway accidents.
